

MONDAY • Sentence Structure and Punctuation

Put a period at the end of a statement. (.)

Put a question mark at the end of sentence that asks a question. (?)

Put an exclamation mark at the end of a sentence that shows a strong feeling. (!)

Put a period or an exclamation mark at the end of a command sentence. (.) or (!)

1. Write the correct punctuation mark at the end of each sentence.

- a) I love it _____ b) Are you going to the park _____
 c) Brush your teeth before bedtime _____ d) Monday is a holiday _____

2. Use the word and or but to join the sentences. Use a comma before the joining word.

My aunt has two apple trees. She has a pear tree.

3. Read the sentence. Circle the subject. Underline the predicate.

Joel and Priha went to the basketball game.

TUESDAY • Grammar and Usage

1. The words a and an are called articles.

Use a before a specific singular noun that starts with a consonant.

Use an before a specific singular noun that starts with a vowel.

- a) _____ bear b) _____ oven c) _____ eel d) _____ bike

2. Circle the adjective in each sentence. Underline the noun it describes.

- a) A grey mouse ran over the carpet. b) Mr. Chan gave me a large box.

3. Use proper nouns to complete the sentence.

- a) I would like to visit the city of _____ in the province of _____.

- b) The first day in the month of _____ is _____.

WEDNESDAY • Figures of Speech

1. An analogy is a comparison of two things that seem different from each other but which have something in common. Write the missing word.

snow = white as grass = _____ (purple green brown)

bee = hive as bird = _____ (nest cave burrow)

2. Is this an example of alliteration? Circle YES or NO.

a) Terry took all his clothes to the charity store. YES NO

b) Silly Sharma saved some shiny stones. YES NO

c) Milly the mouse made a mess in the millet. YES NO

3. Write an example of alliteration using the letter S.

THURSDAY • Word Study

A homonym is a word that is pronounced the same as another word, but which has a different meaning.

Example: book (pages bound with a cover) and book (reserve a table, or room)

1. What does the homonym change mean in the sentence?

Circle the correct definition.

I'm going to change my shirt. (put on different clothes money given back at the store)

2. Circle the synonym for the bolded word.

a) laugh giggle talk b) find save discover c) glue shift stick

3. Circle the antonym for the bolded word.

a) shy crying bold b) sharp dull pointed

4. How many syllables in this word? sometimes _____

FRIDAY • Writing Prompt

A recount tells about events in the order that they happened.

Write a recount of a visit you made to a special place. Draw the place.

- I told the order of events with words like first, next, then, before, after, and finally.
- I ordered my ideas in a way that makes sense.
- I used “I” or “we” in my writing.
- I made sure to include details that answer who, what, where, when, and why.
- I checked for correct spelling and punctuation.